“Welcome to your home”

Dear Guests,

First and foremost, it's a real pleasure to welcome you. Thank you for choosing this little corner of paradise to spend your holidays. I hope that you will be as enchanted by Cordon, the "balcony of Mont Blanc", as we were on our first visit.

My husband and I lived in the Paris suburbs for 20 years, opposite a drab 8-storey building, but we couldn't resist the peace and quiet and the spectacular views of the mountains. Now we live between Cordon and Combloux to "rent weeks of happiness".

As lovers of beauty, we strive every off-season to make the inside as soothing as the outside. Always on the lookout for unique pieces, we're constantly on the lookout for that special piece of furniture with a patina, or that special material, or the finish that will enhance the design icon with which it will be associated.

Far from standard rentals, we wanted to give this chalet a soul. We sincerely hope that you will feel at home straight away... just like in your family home.

Here's all the information you need to make your holiday even more enjoyable

When you arrive, if you wish, reverse along the ramp to make it easier to unload your luggage. You can then park in the 2 covered car parks. If you have a third vehicle, park it perpendicular to the first two. Parking spaces are scarce in Cordon, so avoid parking on the shuttle bus in front of the chalet or in the spaces of the neighbouring gîte. There is a large free car park in the centre of the village, where you can easily park extra cars.

Lighting for the garage, sign and lanterns is automatic. We recommend that you leave the outside lights on when you go out after dark. The switches (with the three small indicator lights) are located next to the bay window, to the right of the workbench and next to the front door. Don't forget to turn them off when you get home.

The ski room is at the back of the garage on the left, and you have been given the key to get there. You can use the dryers to find your ski boots dry and warm the next day, as well as your gloves, hats and helmets. The heating and blower switches are located on the side of each unit.

The bike room is at the back of the garage on the right, where you can safely leave your mountain bikes, as well as charging and servicing them if necessary.
(This facility will be operational in spring 2024).

Everything in the chalet is at your disposal during your stay.

We leave a small grocery, Nespresso capsules and the bottles in the bar at your disposal. If you'd like to take Savoyard cheeses and charcuterie home with you, there's a vacuum-packing drawer in the kitchen (the bags are above the wine cellar). To open the kitchen wine cellar, push the top left-hand corner. If you'd like to try your hand at some tasty low-temperature cooking, there's a cooking drawer for you. Don't look for the washing-up liquid, it's hidden in a pump dispenser to the left of the sink.

What a pleasure it is to cook on a granite worktop that's not afraid of scratches or heat! But it will be eaten away by bleach, vinegar and alcohol. Avoid these products or rinse the stone quickly with soapy water.

To the left of the kitchen mixer tap, you'll find two touch-sensitive buttons. The top one (blue) will dispense filtered, chilled water, while the bottom one (green) will dispense sparkling water, also filtered and chilled. Press the button again to stop dispensing water. Additional CO2 cartridges are located in the plinths under the sink. You'll recognise the full bottles by their sealed caps.

If you love your Thermomix, there's no need to bring your own - you'll find one on site. If you prefer traditional cooking, you'll find plenty of books hidden away on the shepherd's table. Pastry, plancha, barbecue or vegetarian, you'll find all the inspiration you need to treat yourself. Surprise yourself by cooking vegan like a chef. We've got everything you need to prepare these delicious recipes: juice extractor, super blender, dehydrator...

From spring to autumn, lemon balm, mint, sage, chives, thyme, oregano, marjoram, perpetual onion, rocket, sorrel... grow in abundance in the aromatic kitchen garden. Help yourself!

You'll find a second, larger wine cellar on the garden floor. We offer an honesty bar service. The principle is simple: the prices are indicated on the menu, just help yourself, taste and enjoy, and tell us what you've drunk at the end of your stay.

All the operating instructions for the appliances are stored in the two drawers located under the hob at baseboard level.

There are two waste separation bins under the sink and a bottle holder at the entrance to the kitchen. You should dispose of your rubbish in the "moloks" containers 200 m down the road towards the village. You can also do your bit for the environment by putting your garden waste on the compost heap opposite the sauna. This will help to improve the soil in the vegetable garden.

You'll find cleaning products and a Hoover in the upstairs toilet cupboard and in the hall column.

A washing machine and tumble dryer are available in the cellar. The washing machine is equipped with TwinDos technology, so there's no need to add detergent. All you have to do is select white or colour, and the detergent will be automatically dosed and injected. If you prefer to dry your clothes naturally, two drying racks fold out to accommodate your wet clothes. They are located on the outside door to the right of the cinema entrance.

We have installed a drying cabinet between the two upstairs suites. You'll find it easy to iron your dresses fresh from your luggage, deodorise and dry your technical clothes after a day of sport, iron and mark the creases in trousers, disinfect a cuddly toy... We're sure you'll love it.

There's also a steam iron in the cupboard in the "Aravis" suite, so you can iron your clothes like a pro if you like.

Here's the essential WiFi; network: Chalet, Code: les Cerises.

The telephone gives you access to national landline numbers. You can also call us on +33 4 50 98 32 12.

You'll find board games in the box under the PS4 screen in the "Mont-Blanc" suite. A PlayStation Plus subscription is available, with over 700 games streaming, and also works on the PS5 installed in the cinema.

To satisfy all gamers, an Xbox with Game Pass has been installed in the mountain area upstairs.

Workstations

With teleworking becoming more widespread, we felt it was important to provide three workstations. The one in the 'Aravis' suite is equipped with a Macintosh with a 23" screen.

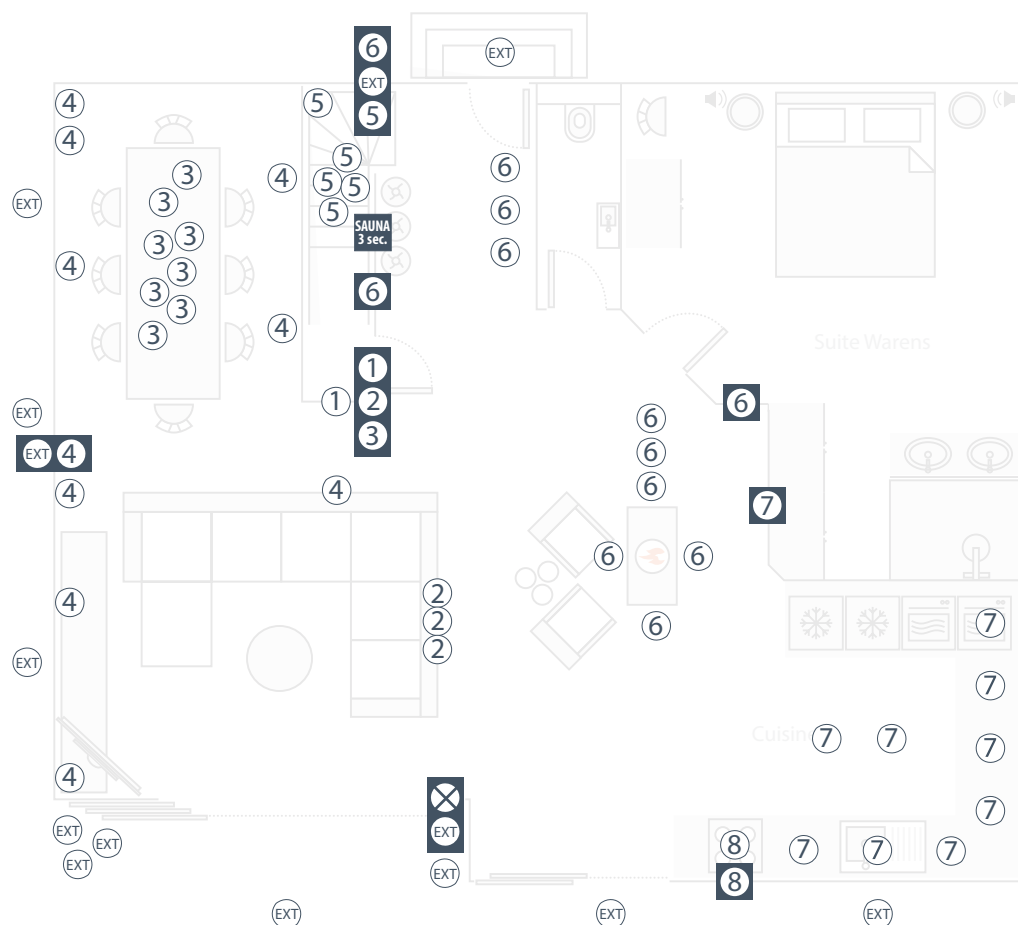

The shepherd's table conceals a powerful PC with a 21" Eizo screen. And the desk in the 'Mont-Blanc' suite will accommodate your laptop.

A printer and scanner complete the installation. None of this would work without a fast network. And just in time, our Starlink connection offers a speed of over 150 Mb/s. Ideally, of course, you won't have to reconnect during your stay.

Almost every room is equipped with high-intensity USB wall chargers. Use the various cables you'll find to quickly recharge your mobile devices.

When we rearranged the room, we had to use the electricity from the partitions we removed. In the end, the location of the controls isn't very intuitive. So to help you find the switch you're looking for, here's a diagram...

Video subscriptions

TV channels are available via DTT or Molotov. All screens are connected to an AppleTV, giving you access to Netflix, Prime, Disney+ and AppleTV+.

Want to rent a film? Just ask us and we'll be happy to unlock it remotely. Above all, don't change the subscription identifiers, as you won't be able to restore them at the end of your stay, and you'll be depriving our next guests of this service.

The cinema room

To start a cinema session, begin by manually switching on the processor and the 3 amplifiers. The switches for the amplifiers are the small black buttons below the large silver ones. The red standby LEDs will light up on power-up. You then need to press the silver buttons for the lights to turn yellow.

Please turn off the amplifiers at the end of the session using the black switches, as these little audiophile marvels have the unfortunate tendency to consume more than 800 Watts on standby.

Then simply follow the instructions on the RTI remote control. The programming includes closing the curtains, lowering the screen and controlling the lights.

If you need to use the original remote controls, start by closing the curtains with the Makita remote control, then switch on the projector with the Sony remote control; the screen will lower after 10 seconds. Then use the AppleTV remote to access the subscriptions.

Sonos speakers

To listen to music, download the Sonos app onto your smartphone and connect to the chalet's WiFi network. Open the app and select "connect to an existing system". You'll then be able to access the Deezer, GooglePlay, Amazon Music, Spotify and Apple Music catalogues to stream to the room or rooms of your choice. Sonos speakers are also compatible with Apple's AirPlay system.

The Moove speaker goes everywhere. It's not afraid of the rain or the cold. Think of the peace and quiet of our neighbours outside: they like music just as much as you do, but not too loud or too late. You can recharge it by returning it to its cradle.

Heating

Nest thermostats allow you to control the heating in 7 zones (living room, bedrooms, cinema, massage room). The controls on the radiators must not be used. The temperature displayed in the centre of the thermostat corresponds to the set point, and the temperature on the notched wheel to the room temperature. The background turns orange when the radiator heats up. The rooms are programmed to 16°C (60°F) during the day and 21°C (70°F) at night. We can change the setting remotely, so don't hesitate to let us know so we can adjust it to suit your needs.

The LED candles are lit by remote control. Batteries and two chargers are stored in the drawer of the workbench.

We've taken great care to choose quality bedding. The duvets are double-insulated, and the beds are covered with a soft goose-down mattress topper.

For the perfect hammam session:

Before entering, drink a glass of water or herbal tea. Take a lukewarm shower, wash and dry off.

The first phase (warming up) generally lasts 15 to 20 minutes.

As well as steam, you can also enjoy aromatherapy, with essential oils chosen to awaken, refresh, stimulate or relax. Chromotherapy also has a beneficial effect on the body and mind. Finish off with a cool shower and lie down for a few minutes of relaxation. This is the time to gently rub your body with a horsehair glove.

The second phase (cooling down). After the Turkish bath, it's very pleasant to expose yourself to the outside temperature or cool off with a cool shower or sponge bath. Thanks to your body temperature, you'll spend several minutes in a pleasant feeling of freshness and well-being. This phase involves cooling off to escape the intense heat of the hammam, but also to tone the body.

The third phase consists of another Turkish bath-cold shower cycle. At the end of the first two phases, relax for at least a quarter of an hour, perhaps with a light, relaxing massage.

Replenish lost fluids by drinking water, fruit juices or herbal teas. It's best not to have an empty or overfull stomach. A light, cool snack is ideal.

To sum up: Hot shower 2' | Hot tea 6' | Horsehair Glove 2'
Hammam 10/15' | Cool shower | Hammam 10'
Cool shower or cool bath 2' | Rest 20' | Drink.

The steam room in the "Aravis" suite

Before activating the function, check that the balneotherapy cabin door is closed. Press the bottom button (2) to start the steam room session. The programmed duration is 90 minutes. To interrupt the cycle, simply press the same button (2). At the end of the cycle, the LED will flash to indicate the rinsing and steam generator phase.

Chromotherapy: press button (1). The pre-programmed duration is 60 minutes. The first press activates a bluish light. A second press scrolls through all the colours in the spectrum. Choose a fixed colour by pressing a third time. To switch everything off, press a fourth time.

Showers: Turn the valve (3) to the left to select the waterfall, to the centre for the shower head and to the right for the hand shower. Then turn towards you to make the water flow.

Aromatherapy: Before the session, you can insert a cotton pad soaked in a few drops of eucalyptus essential oil into the diffuser (5). The diffuser becomes very hot during the cycle and water may leak out. We advise you to move slightly to the right to avoid any risk of burns.

Music: select the "GLASS 1989" device to pair the Bluetooth speaker with your phone or computer.

We advise you not to let children use this equipment alone. You are responsible for the use of this equipment.

The steam room in the "Mont-Blanc" suite

To start the session, press the HAMMAM button. The [H] icon is displayed. Press + or - to set the desired temperature. The display shows SET TEMP, confirm by pressing OK.

A white light comes on outside the cabin in the top left corner of the door. When the temperature is reached, the light turns blue and the steam room session can begin.

To stop the steam generator, press the HAMMAM button again; after a few seconds, the generator will start the washing procedure, which will last 15 minutes. The 💧 icon will appear during this phase.

Press key II (pause) while the generator is running ([H] icon on the display) || to interrupt steam production. If you press key II (pause) again within 30 minutes, steam production will resume. Otherwise, the generator will switch off automatically.

Press the WARM button to activate the production of hot air to heat the shower cubicle. Is this really useful?

Press CROMO to activate chromotherapy, the [C] icon will appear. Use the + and - buttons to choose the colour. Note that ROSSO (red) - GIALLO (yellow) - VERDE (green) - BLU

(blue) - ACQUAMARINA (aquamarine) are fixed colours. ALBA (dawn) - TRAMONTO (sunset) - MARE (sea) - BOSCO (forest) are dynamic cycles.

Press the LIGHT button to switch the white light on or off. [L] will appear on the display.

The MENU button is used to create a programme. We advise you not to use it. To cancel daily programming (Set start), simply press the HAMMAM button twice. The [H] icon should not appear on the display.

If the door is not closed properly, the [D] symbol will appear on the display. Check that the cabin is airtight, otherwise you will hear a beep 40 seconds later. The steam generator will then pause automatically after a further 20 seconds.

Aromatherapy: before starting the session, you can insert a few drops of eucalyptus essential oil inside the diffuser. The diffuser becomes very hot during the cycle and water may leak under the baffle.

Check that the baffle is properly inserted in the grille before starting a session. This is designed to protect you from the risk of burns.

If the ⚠ symbol appears on the screen, please contact us as soon as possible and stop using the Turkish bath.

The interior of the chalet is completely non-smoking, but there is an ashtray outside. Pets — no matter how adorable — are not allowed.

A telescope (x90) and tripod are stored in the trunk of the Mont-Blanc suite.

The fireplace must be used with the insert closed, firstly because this is the best way to heat the room, and above all for safety reasons and to avoid poisoning yourself. With the fireplace open, kitchen ventilation would prevent carbon monoxide from escaping up the chimney flue. Firelighters are available outside on the balcony or terrace. For your safety, never use alcohol or petrol to start a fire.

Fire and carbon monoxide detectors are installed on each floor to warn you of the danger. Press the central button to deactivate the siren. A water extinguisher is installed on the staircase leading to the cellar, and a second CO₂ extinguisher is strategically placed under the electrical panel.

A roof window can be opened using the wall-mounted remote control located on the landing. Note that it closes automatically in the event of rain.

The Forge Adour griddle on the balcony can be used in summer and winter, and as it is electric, you only need to turn the knobs to start it up. The blue LED goes out when the enamelled plate is at temperature. Don't forget to unfold the shelves on either side, so you can cook at your leisure.

You'll find all the utensils you need in the drawer, as well as delicious recipes in our culinary library. At the end of cooking, when the hob is still hot, pour water over it to loosen the burnt fat, which will then drain into the grease tray. All you have to do is empty it and clean it in the sink, as this cast aluminium tray does not like dishwashers at all.

To protect the electrical installation from the elements, we've installed two circuit breakers on the balcony railings. You'll need to turn the knobs to the vertical position to use the sockets that are flush with the floor. Don't forget to turn them back to the horizontal position after use, as you could risk a power cut if it rains or snows.

The floor sockets on the terrace work on the same principle, activated directly from the electrical panel. Again, don't forget to switch them off after use.

The Vulx gas griddle is a wonderful tool for socialising. You can grill tapas while sipping a cocktail and admiring Mont Blanc. All you have to do is open the tap on the gas bottle in the hatch, and the burner controls under the tray. The fire is lit from above, after removing the central part of the tray. Let us know as soon as a bottle is empty so that we can replace it.

Next to the garden furniture, the Vulx coffee table/brasero invites you to enjoy a wood fire outside... as long as you take a few precautions. Avoid loading the fire too much, as the wind can turn and blow the flames towards the sofas. Don't panic, you'll find two dry powder extinguishers outside; one in the apiary, and a second near the jacuzzi.

We suggest you move them closer to the fireplace when you're using the brazier. A rack and a grill will enable you to make tasty beef ribs over the coals. These accessories are located in the plancha cabinet on the balcony.

You'll find a parasol and the cushions for the garden furniture in the lockers. Remember to protect them in case of rain. If they get wet, you won't be able to lounge on the sun loungers and sofas.

Under the wisteria arbour, you'll find a discreet garden shower. In fine weather, turn the mixer tap to the left for hot water. Please note that the shower cannot be used during the frosty season.

Before your stay, the spa water has been scrupulously checked. A professional sand filter and continuous chlorine and pH checks ensure that the water is of the highest quality. Suncream, lotions,

- 1 - Access hatch.

Remove the access hatch and open the gas inlet on the regulator. Remove the removable central plate to gain access to the burners. Open the burner controls and light them with a flame. Replace the centre plate and access hatch.

- 5 - Cooking plate.
- 6 - Removable central plate.
- 7 - Wood-burning fireplace.

Remove the removable central plate and the hob. Empty the firebox (if necessary) and light a fire. If you wish to use the Vulx as a plancha, replace the two plates. Do not replace them if you wish to use it as a brazier.

When you leave, put the lid on to smother the fire.

Use the grill and its support to cook over an open fire.

Install the ice bucket to cool your bottles.

- A - Air inlet valve (Venturi effect), seats 2-3-4.

Activate the first massage pump by pressing . Places 5-6-7, the shoulder fountains and the 3 jet waterfall will start to work. Press a second time to increase the power.

To activate the second pump, press to switch on the massage jets in seats 1-2-3-4.

Open the air inlets to create a Venturi effect and give a stronger massage.

Press to activate a chromotherapy cycle, slowly changing colours from one to another. Press briefly twice in succession to illuminate the spa with the colour of your choice.

Press to access the 8 massage programmes.

Use the buttons to make your choice and confirm. Position the diverter in the middle to balance the flow between all the positions. You will need to wait about two minutes, the time needed to drain the spa, before starting your hydrotherapy programme.

perspiration and soap affect the balance of the water. Take a shower without soap before entering the pool. Of course, you could not do this, but then you would run the risk of foam appearing and you would no longer be able to enjoy crystal-clear water.

Don't hesitate to let us know if the quality of the water declines, and we'll take action as quickly as possible.

The spa is equipped with a hydrotherapy programme. Simply select one of the 8 massage programmes from the control panel: sports recovery, diet activation, heavy legs, insomnia, headaches, backache, wake-up call or stress. You will then be invited to move to different zones according to the jets. The spa itself manages the lighting, the power of the massages and the duration of the cycles. It is transformed into a real wellness centre thanks to the programmes, each with a targeted therapeutic effect.

You can adjust the power of each jet individually at any time by turning them a quarter turn.

At the end of each massage session, switch off the jets and enjoy the warm bath without massage for 3 to 5 minutes to rest the activated areas. Massage cycles last 15 minutes, while chromotherapy is active for one hour. Both will switch off automatically after this time. If you replace the hard cover between each use, you'll keep the water at the right temperature, prevent impurities and protect your children from the risk of drowning. Use the cover lifter: raise the two black metal arms, fold the cover in half and slide it to the stop of the cover lifter. This will make it easier to open.

If the water is too hot, there is a risk of hyperthermia, so we advise you not to bathe at over 38.5°C (101.5°F).

You can switch on the sauna from inside the chalet or from the cabin by pressing the On/Off button for three seconds. A countdown timer will appear, followed by a beep (or alternatively, from inside the cabin, wait for the yellow light to appear). Allow half an hour for the sauna to reach a temperature of 80°C (176°F). After an hour, it will switch off, so you'll need to restart it manually.

Here are a few tips on how to use the sauna properly:

Take off your glasses or contact lenses and remove any jewellery that could be burnt by the heat. You need to have time - the session lasts between 1 h 30 and 2 h. It's important to complete the 4 steps of the ritual at each session.

Do the session at least 2 hours after eating to avoid any discomfort or nausea.

Bathrobes are available in each room.

The sauna ritual is divided into 4 phases

1. Hot shower — Before any sauna session, it is essential to take a hot shower, firstly to cleanse your skin, but also to start warming up your body and activate sweating. You need to dry off well before entering the sauna, warm and dry.

2. The dry steam bath - The cabin temperature should be between 60°C (140°F) and 100°C (212°F), with an average of around 80°C (176°F), and the humidity level should not exceed 30%. It's best to enter the sauna naked, with only a towel around your waist and a second towel to lie on.

The first time you enter the sauna, lie down. The temperature is lower and you'll feel less oppressive. On subsequent visits, you can sit down if you can bear it.

Relax, take the opportunity to unwind and meditate. When the sweat rolls off your body, it's time to get out. At this point, evaporation through the skin is no longer sufficient and the body starts to cool down. This should be around 10 minutes, never more than 15 minutes.

3. The cold shower — Once you're out, take a cold shower, starting with your feet and legs and working up to your shoulders and face. The coolness will trigger a physiological overexcitement, allowing the body to burn off the residue (this will have the same effect as a fever). Dry yourself well.

4. Rest — lie down with your legs slightly elevated and cover yourself with a blanket. Rest for 15 minutes, contemplating the mountains, before repeating the 4 phases. Start again with a hot shower.

A little naturopathic advice:

If you're not sweating, carry out the ritual as indicated. Your sweat glands will resume their function after several sessions.

Over time, the sessions will become shorter and shorter, as your skin will be trained and you'll start to sweat quickly.

If you start to feel unwell, go outside when you feel the need and continue the ritual. Your body will gradually get used to it. There is no point, and it would even be dangerous, in forcing yourself to stay longer.

After the final rest, brush the skin dry to remove any dead skin and residue and take a hot shower. After your shower, take the opportunity to apply an oil with a few drops of an essential oil of your choice.

At the end of the session, remember to drink at least a litre of water to finish eliminating the toxins that have been put back into your bloodstream and to rebalance your body's water requirements.

If you can, avoid drinking for an hour before and during your sauna session, so that you can eliminate more toxins and acids. However, the first few times, if you feel the need, drink. Your body will gradually get used to it. Don't force yourself!

The benefits of a sauna session:

- Stimulates blood circulation. Helps the cardiovascular system to function properly. It also helps to keep blood pressure down.
- Relaxes muscles, providing rapid relief after a sports session.
- Reduces joint stiffness.
- Boosts our immune system. The sauna puts the body into a state of "artificial fever", which stimulates the immune system and leads to increased production of white blood cells and antibodies to fight disease.
- Sweating flushes out toxins accumulated in the body.
- Helps our internal eliminators: kidneys and liver.
- Anti-stress: calms the nerves and eliminates tension.

- Helps you sleep: a session before bed helps you sleep better.
- Skin beauty through deep cleansing: softer, purer, brighter, firmer skin.
- Fights skin problems: acne, psoriasis, eczema, hives.
- Anti-cellulite. Does not make you lose weight, but accompanies a diet.
- Reduces coughing in cases of bronchitis.

Here are the cases in which the sauna is not recommended:

- The consumption of alcohol, drugs or antihypertensive medication before the session is totally forbidden.
- Multiple sclerosis: heat is not indicated for this condition, which could exacerbate the symptoms.
- Varicose veins: as blood circulation is activated, this could be very painful. However, in the case of small varicose veins, you can carry out the session by placing a damp towel over the varicose veins.
- Infectious diseases, to avoid contaminating other people.
- A recent heart operation or heart attack: as the heart is under great strain, it is preferable to wait until you have stabilised before having a sauna session. However, the sauna is perfectly suitable for re-educating the heart and strengthening it in the event of a heart problem. Ask your doctor for advice before any session.
- Fever: as the heat causes an artificial fever, your fever will rise considerably and could become dangerous.

11 km of ski slopes

During the season, the free shuttle bus stops twice a day in front of the chalet to take you to the slopes. From the village centre, the shuttle runs more frequently, departing every half hour.
